

Entry Level Writing and Composition Requirements

Multilingual Curriculum (MLC)

Who takes the MLC?

The Multilingual Curriculum \(MLC\) is required of F-1 international students who earn a score of 5 or lower on the Analytical Writing Placement Exam \(AWPE\). Students who place into the MLC will satisfy the Entry Level Writing Requirement \(ELWR\) through the MLC upon passing Writing 27.

How do students place into the MLC?

How many courses are required in the MLC?

Three courses – Writing 25, Writing 26, Writing 27 – comprise the MLC. Students proceed sequentially through the curriculum from their initial placement. Students placed into WRIT 25 in the fall will move to WRIT 26 in the winter, and WRIT 27 in the spring. Students placed into this curriculum are required to take an MLC course every quarter until satisfying ELWR or earning a non-passing grade two times in either Writing 25 or Writing 26.

How do MLC students satisfy the Entry Level Writing Requirement (ELWR)?

Students in the MLC satisfy the ELWR by passing Writing 27 with a grade of C(2.0)/P or better.

How do MLC students satisfy the Composition 1 (C1) requirement?

C1 satisfaction varies by college. Some students will satisfy C1 through the college Core course; other students will take Writing 1. Students should contact their college adviser to understand which course their college requires for C1.

How do MLC students satisfy the Composition 2 (C2) requirement?

After satisfaction of ELWR and C1, most students will take Writing 2 to satisfy C2. C2 must be satisfied prior to the start of the 7th quarter of enrollment.
